

Some Antenna And QTH Pictures With A Fall Flavour

November 2020

Not an antenna story this time. I decided to share some interesting fall season pictures of antennas and various views around the property. Since many folks are not getting out due to the pandemic restrictions, these pictures are sharing some of the nice views I enjoy here in the South Shore area of Nova Scotia. This particular day blended some autumn colours with a typical East Coast foggy morning.

Enjoy.
